Please join us for a Round Table Mentoring Event! Round Table Mentoring is a way to bring together individuals with similar professional interests to share best practices, experiences, advice and perspectives. The round table group will typically consist of 4 – 8 participants of various experience levels. The discussion is typically initiated by a facilitator, and all can participate by offering their perspectives or by asking questions. This allows participants to get more than one perspective on a given topic and can give even more experienced professionals additional insights. For our event we will be pulling topics from the Lois Frankel book, Nice Girls Don't Get the Corner Office: 101 Unconscious Mistakes Women Make That Sabotage Their Careers.
